Present on the call

Mike Rodenbaugh - CBUC - GNSO Council

Kristina Rosette - IPC - GNSO Council

Greg Shatan - IPC

Margie Milam - Registrar/IPC

ICANN Staff

Liz Williams - Senior Policy Counselor

Glen de Saint G ery - GNSO Secretariat

Coordinator: Hello this is the operator. The call is now being recorded, thank you.

(Liz): Glen would you mind just doing a quick roll call?

Glen de Saint Gery: (Unintelligible) we've got (Kristina Rosette) on the call, (Mike Rodenbach), (Margie Milam), yourself (Liz), (GregShattan) and myself, Glen. Is there anybody that I've missed?

(Liz): Thanks Glen. Who was on the -- there was someone on the last time when I was away because I'm sorry I'm behind on what the progress was of doing the drops because that's where I had left it. Is there anyone who can just give a quick update?

(Kristina Rosette): There really isn't much to update. We just talked actually I don't even remember how long the meeting was. I know it was rather short. To just remind people what they had agreed to handle.

(Liz): Okay thanks (Christina). I haven't seen any other drafts. Is it just a case where we need to send everyone on the list a reminder that they need to submit the drafts before the next call so we can wrap it up? Because we are now at what, September 4 and the work of the group is going to finish on October 15 is that right?

Man: Yes.

(Mike Rodenbaugh): I think that is the case.

(Liz): Okay yes, I think that's what it is. Glen that's correct isn't it? It's October 15?

Glen: That's right (Liz).

(Liz): Yes, and I think (Craig Schwartz) will be expecting whatever the group came up with. So from my side it's actually difficult to do anything until those drafts come in. I'm sure that's the same for everybody else.

Man: Yes.

(Mike Rodenbaugh): So if we're supposed to be finished by October 15 that only gives us after this call two more calls or three more calls?

(Liz): That's right. Well whatever it is once a (unintelligible) might make.

(Mike Rodenbaugh): Yes, well we might need to schedule some intervening calls then towards the end.

Woman: (Unintelligible) start submitting drafts.

(Mike Rodenbaugh): Yes, I mean obviously we need to get something to talk about first but and get prepared for that.

(Liz): Well what if we, you're right (Mike) what if we set a deadline of first drafts by end of the week next week because next weeks the off week for the call? But at some point unless people produce the materials that they are going to say that they're producing then there's little point people dialing in to talk about nothing.

Man: That's right.

(Liz): Yes.

Glen de Saint Gery: Sorry may I just interrupt there are three calls left, September 18, October 2 and October 9.

(Mike Rodenbaugh): Okay thanks Glen.

(Liz): Yes, thanks Glen so that means that we could wrap up by October 15 with whatever package. So I wonder guys if it's okay with you shall I just send out a reminder to the group to submit their drafts by close of business Friday next week?

(Mike Rodenbaugh): Use the word please four or six times.

(Liz): You can send the message (Mike) I'm sure you could do that because you've just been really (unintelligible) people, so close of business next Friday for first draft and then we can spend the next week's call discussing those. Is that all right?

Woman: Yes.

(Liz): Yes, and then we have to finish off on, sorry Glen it was the week of the 9th of October yes?

Glen de Saint Gery: Yes.

(Liz): Before the 15th.

Woman: Do you know what I think might be helpful and I unfortunately didn't keep track of it is to remind everybody...

(Liz): Who's doing what?

Woman: Exactly.

(Liz): Yes, sure. Okay I'll dig that up.

(Mike Rodenbaugh): And then maybe we can start pressuring one another as well.

Woman: Right, well, you know, I'll admit I'm part of the hold up for IT claims because I need to be giving staff a complete list of things I would change if it was up to me. And I've been working on that but that's not done.

(Liz): Okay well in that case guys I will do that shortly. And then I know that everyone's working with a buddy. Say for example (Jay Scott) was working with (Kelly) on one. I know (Mike) you were working with someone else on another. Could you all get together because we have to produce something? Otherwise we have to say we're not producing anything. Because it's my sense and maybe this is incorrect but it's my sense that if we produced an incomplete list then that wouldn't be such a good idea.

Woman: Well I think, you know, I don't know I think it's (Kelly) and (Jay Scott) are working on Sunrise.

(Liz): Yes, that's right.

Woman: And I would welcome any thoughts you have on this (Liz) but you know it's all well and good for a bunch of IT (unintelligible) to be saying you know this is what it should look like. But as a practical matter unless we get input and contributions you know reviewed by people who are actually a) who have adopted it and b) who have implemented it I don't think it helps as much.

(Liz): No exactly. I think that's why (Eric) was involved -- (Eric Brown) from Neustar he was one of the ops guys. And I'm not quite sure -- I haven't got the list right in front of me -- who else they were but I'll give them a (unintelligible) up and then we'll try to get first drafts around. Now that's sort of the third call for first drafts and we haven't gotten anything so we have to get onto it I think. But I'll take on to do that shortly. Is there anything else that anyone wanted to bring up?

Man: No.

(Liz): No, if there's nothing else that anyone needed to do then I think we better get drafting.

Woman: Yes.

(Liz): Is that all right?

Woman: Yep.

(Mike Rodenbaugh): Sounds good.

(Liz): Okay thanks everyone.

Woman: All right bye.
